A Fun Day

I road my boat and far did roam.
Then with my coat I went back home.
The wind did blow, the sky dropped snow.
So off I went, I had to go.

This is my tale, both sweet and neat.
With boats and me on snowy streets.
It was a day that had much joy
Like when I play with a fun toy.

Ours are arrghs!

Once upon a time, long dead,
There met a noisy crew, it's said.
"What words," they asked, "are yelled by you,
When shouting loud, both near and through?"
The pirates grinned their toothy charms:
"Ours are arrghs!"

The Clumsy Happy Day

The muddy path was hardly walked,
We kicked some stones and long we talked,
The grumpy goat just leaped ahead,
Then tripped and landed on his head.

The noisy kids all laughed and yelled,
The happiest moment ever held.
We cleaned our boots and hugged goodbye,
The messiest, brightest day flew by.
